

Supplier facts

Bang & Olufsen collaborates with skilled and innovative suppliers across the world, sourcing everything from electronic components and wood to leather and recycled plastic from trusted global partners.

Responsible supply chain relationships are becoming an increasingly important aspect for Bang & Olufsen. As a signatory of the UN Global Compact principles, we engage constructively with our suppliers to drive continuous improvements, and based on the assumption that suppliers share Bang & Olufsen's commitments to international principles for human rights, labour rights, the environment and anti-corruption.

As of 1 June 2024, we are working with a total of 98 suppliers in 4 different countries/regions. The numbers below reflect the country of the supplier's production, not necessarily the headquarter of the supplier.
